Swiftpaw x Brightpaw

Brightpaw was walking through the forest when Swiftpaw came running through the bushes knocking into her.

"Hey! What are you doing!?!" she growled at Swiftpaw.

"Sorry i thought my squirrel came through here." Swiftpaw replyed apologetically.

Brightpaw growled lightly. Swiftpaw ruined her peace and her hunting!

"Hey want to hunt together it'll be better then hunting alone!" Swiftpaw asked hopfully

"Fine but no loud noises or funny buissness!" Brightpaw said walking torward the bushes.

Swiftpaw followed her happily. When they got back to camp they had caught two large voles.

"Meet me at sunning rocks at moon rise" Swiftpaw whispered before scampering off to the apperentice den.

Brightpaw huffed and went to the apperentices den. She should rest if she is going to sunning rocks with Swiftpaw. When she woke up the moon was rising and Swiftpaw was gone.

He must have already gone to sunning rocks. Brightpaw thought walking out of the apperentices den. When she got to sunning rocks Swiftpaw was already there.

"Its about time! Its almost moon high." Swiftpaw exclaimed a bit annoyed

"Sorry" Brightpaw said short temperedly.

Swiftpaw becond Brightpaw to the rock he sat on. She jumped on it and layed down looking out at the river. The moon glowing off it beautifully. Swiftpaw began to lick her ear. Brightpaw felt happy to have friends that she had they appereciated her like no cat else. Brightpaw leaned into Swiftpaw purring happily. Swiftpaw purred at her happiness, she had been grumpy all day, he knew this would make her relax. They sat cuddling happily falling asleep.

Longtail x Mousefur

Longtail was walking through the forest he was on potrol. He heard a cat mummbling something. He peared through the bushes and saw Mousefur carving something in the dirt with her claw.

"Mousefur what are you doing?" Longtail asked.

Mousefur looked up and saw longtail. How long has he been there? Mousefur thought.

"Nothing I was just thinking" Mousefur assured him.

"So you think with your claws?" Longtail joked

Mousefur sighed scratching out what she drew. She got up and walked passed Longtail. Their pelts brushing passed each other. Mousefur shivered at the touch but continued in the direction of snake rocks. Longtail noticed her shiver and disided to follow her.

When Mousefur reached snake rocks she layed down and started to carve out a new thing. Longtail climbed a small tree near hear (she sat under it) and watched her carve out something in the dirt. Before he knew what it was he jumped down startling Mousefur.

"Mousefur do you like me" Longtail asked seriously.

Mousefur froze and stared at Longtail shocked.

"Y-yes" Mousefur said embarassed and blushing.

"I thought you did" Longtail said walking up to her licking her ear.

They walked together back to camp. When they got inthe warriors den they both cuddled in a nest and fell asleep.

Scorge x kittypet

Your sitting on your fence looking out at the forest, searching for any signs of movement. Something shuffles in the bushes, curiously you jump off the fence your collar making a small tinkling noise. Suddenly you stop dead in your tracks fur bristling, you see two icey cold blue eyes staring at you through the bushes. Anger, curiousity, and softness apear to be in the eyes. Then a small black tom with one white paw and a collar filled with what you think is teeth creeps out of the bushed fur laying flat on his back.

He appears to be calm so you let your fur lay flat still nervouse, his cold stare on you. You sit up and stare fearlessly back only a bit nervouse seeing how you are the same size as him. He lets out a small hostile growl.

"Who are you?" he said in a growl.

"I umm I am y/n, who are you?" you ask boldly.

"I am Scourge" he said evily.

"Oh good another brave tom to sneak in the forest, so intimidating" you say angerily.

That did it his eyes flashed and he pounced at you claws unsheathed. You let out a terrified yowl as you run from him. His claws raked at your tail and his powerful jaws snap at your hips. He out runs you turns and tackles you to the floor pinning you down. You let out a pain filled yowl as his claws dig in to your flesh. Your eyes flash with fear and he grins seeing you now terrified of him.

The teeth on his collar poke at you as he leans in to speak in your ear making you more terrified. "Everyone fears me" he growled.

"I-I'm sorry please let me go! I'll do anything!" you scream out of true terror your eyes start watering.

His claw hold on you loosens at your words. You look at him shocked to see his eyes full of amusement. He gets off you and pulls you up by your collar, making your choke and cough. He beckons with his tail for you to sit. You sit and panic as he looms in close to you, a whisker away from your face and stares in to your eyes searching for something. You flick you tail nervously, some how you manage to flick it so hard against his front paw he was balancing on and make him fall on you. You panic not knowing what he will do but you are so lost in thought dont even relize your pink nose is touching his black nose. You squint in pain as you feel that the teeth on his collar stabbed in to you when you fell.

You both stare into each others eyes dazed and wincingly. Scourge licks your nose lovingly, you lick his back.

-time skip brought to you by meow mix cat mix-

It had been eight moons sense you started seeing scourge, falling in more and more love. You waited on the fence for the fimiliar sight of scourge, you had his kits, you hid them from the two legs in a fallen tree in the forest. You continued to wait for scourge but he never came. You went in the forest and found your kits you named one moonkit she was a little kit with black paws and gray-blue muzzle ears and tail tip. The second was named nightkit he was a completly black tom with only the tips of his ears where white. You heard and smelled a cat thinking it was scourge you let out a mew of question, this didnt smell like scourge.

A gray tom with a dark gray stripes looked in at you. You let out a terrified hiss who is this cat? He got in the log you knew he could over power you easily. He sniffed the air. You knew you had to smell like the forest you hardly went to your two legged owners. He looked at you then your kits then called for someone.

"Sandstorm look what i found" he remarked.

No sooner then he said it a ginger tabby poked her head in at stared unblinkingly at you then the kits. She whispered in the toms ear and he noded.

"Come on, you shouldn't be here" said the she-cat.

You gasp they dont expect you to leave your kits do they. Your kits looked up at the strangers then to you. They must be thinking the same thing.

"Your kits will come to do they need help walking?" said the she cat

You nod "yes please" you say picking up the nearest kit by its scruff. The she cat moves close to the second kit picking it up and carrying it out into the forest. You follow her the tom following you close behind. Soon you come upon a place and go through the opening in the ferns. On the other side of the ferns there is alot of cats. You follow the she cat, Sandstorm, to a huge rock, Sandstorm places nightkit on the ground you do the same and sit down next to your kits who are complaining that they are hungry.

A ginger tom steps torward you staring at you with his green eyes. Other cats watch as he jumps on the rock and calls for other cats. Sandstorm jumps up and so does the Gray warrior you met first. He goes on how they found you and then turns to look at you. He asks you if you would like to join the clan you think then agree he gives you the name (warrior name) and dismisses the cats, one she cat comes to you.

"I can help you settle into the nursery if you would like" she offers

"Yes thank you for being kind" you answer you both go to the nursery your kits running after you.

A while later other kits in the nursery are interested in your two.

"Nightkit do you and Moonkit want to play?" asks a small white she kit.

Your kits agree and they all start to play with a ball of moss. You are happy, you miss scourge but your still happy.

Firestar x kitty-clan cat

Firestar was on patrol walking next to the thunderpath when a monster comes speeding past followed by two more monsters that where howling and flashing colours. Firestar backed up in torwards the forest but tripped and fell in a hole. He tried to claw his way out but to no avail. He sighed and lay down. It was not long untill he heared something approching.

Firestar let out a small mew of anguish as a twoleg looked down in the hole

"Hm just what i need" Firestar said displeased .

The twoleg picked him up out of the hole and mummbled something to him he couldn't understand. Insead of putting firestar down on the forest floor the twoleg just walked on with him in its arms. Firestar let out a silent hiss but the two leg continued on torward the two leg place. When the got there the twoleg brought him in and set him down be a big black scaley thing. The twoleg came back from the small wooden thing with a green collar. Firestar stared to back up he was no kitty pet. The two leg asvanced putting the collar around his neck.

Firestar growledthe twoleg looked at him and then lightly hit him on his head.the twoleg pushed forward a bowl of mushy brown stuff-kittypet food. He turned his nose at it as the twoleg walked away. Firestar heard a small snickering behind him.

"Not a big fan of kitty-pet food are ya?" a soft she-catsounded behind him.

Firestar whirled around to see a tortoise shell she-cat with green eyes behind him.

"Im not either I prefer mouse." she said cringing her nose at the smell.

"Who are you?" she asked

Firestar sat his head high "I am Firestar".

"A leader wow how did you manage that?"she said quizzicaly

"Who are you?" Firestar asked

"The twolegs call me sticky even though I am not the least bit sticky but like you I'm a clan cat so my name is y/n these dumb twolegs took me from my territory but i dont care i wanted to leave anyways i wanted to join another clan but i cant find any other clan cats or their camps." she said sadly.

"You could join my clan, Thunderclan, once we get out of here." Firestar offered

"Really? thank you! come, the cat flap is this way" she said walking around the corner of the tall wooden structure.

As he peered around the corner he saw the twoleg walk over and place a white thing that fit securly around the cat flap. They muttered something and pick up y/n and Firestar. They took them to a small room and placed them down in it. They then shut the door and looked over a small half wall and just stared intently at the both of them.

"What do they want us to do?" asked Firestar

"I dont know but when I dont do what they want they get really mad, they take away the food and lock the cat flap until you do what they want." Y/n said bitterly.

Then the twoleg started to get fusturated and the other one gestured for it to go away and it left.

The twoleg then got in the room and picked up Firestar then the twoleg reached down to grab y/n but she turned and attacked the twolegs hand, fastening her teeth, drawing blood the twoleg yowled in pain and Firestar ran and started to attack its leg bitting and scratching.

The other twoleg came in with a flyswatter and started to hit Firestar with it. Firestar kept his grip when suddenly the twoleg swung its free hand at y/n knocking her off and on the floor. Firestar climbed up the two leg and bit it on the nose blinded by anger he jumped on to the other two legs face leaving the other to fall on the floor. Firestar started to vicously maul its head when he hear it whimpering he jumped on the floor and nudged y/n. She opened her green eyes and jumped up so she was standing nose to nose with Firestar.

"We need to go now!"said Firestar as they ran side by side toward the cat flap. They adruptly stopped when they saw the white cover was still fastened on the cat flap.

The twoleg ran in and started toward them. "Oh no" y/n said

Then Firestar backed up and ran torward the door at full speed and with a loud snap the cover broke and scatched Firestar leaving him bleeding, y/n tried to follow but the twoleg grabbed her. Firestar was about to go in but froze when he saw her spikey pink collar was inside out and stabbing in to her neck as the twoleg pulled on it harder and harder then the collar loosened and y/n tore free of her collar making her neck and chin bleed. She and Firestar scrambled up the fence and tore through the forest as fast as their weakened legs would allow.

They ran toward sunning rocks and when they got there they stopped and sat on a rock heaving.

"We should head back to our clan" Firestar said

"Yeah lets see if they exept me; they will probably thing i 'attacked' you" y/n said nervousely

"we'll see" said Firestar

-time skip brought to you by me-

When they got back to the camp they where bombarded with questions. Y/n moved into the nursery and Firestar maintained his role as leader.

Ashfur x reader

N/c = nose color btw

You where walking through the forest in search of prey when you hear ccats mating. Curiouse you peer through the bushes and see YOUR mate mating with another she-cat. You shrink back in disbelief. Befor you know who the she-cat is you run of the oppistie direction of camp and fight back tears. You reach tall pines and colapse heaving out loud sobs, you dont even hear paws rushing torward you. With one paw covering your muzzle and the other covering one of your e/c eyes.

You feelanother pelt brush up against your f/c pelt. You look to see your best friend Ashfur laying next v to you with worry in his eyes. "Are you ok y/w/n?" he asks Remembering why you where crying you start wailing again you try to speak but only manage to puff out " my..he...another...HE IS MATES WITH SOMEONE ELSE!" you wail pathetically.

He flinches at the words because you screamed them in his ear then he starts to lick your head and ears in attempt to try and calm you down. It works and your heaving turns to hiccuping and sniffling.

"Its ok you dont have to worry about him any more I will make sure he no one hurts you ever again." he tells you protectivly and understandingly.

You look up at him gratfully and burry your soft n/c in his soft gray fur. "Thankyou Ashfur." you say happily and sleepily crying and running wore you out alot. You just wanted to curl up next to him and sleep for a thousand moons. "Come on lets get back to camp." he says standing up. You realize how dark the sky is and try to stand but a sharp pain in one of your back legs makes you stumble and fall back on the needley forest floor. You cringe with pain as you look down and see the biggest thorn you ever saw in your hole life wedged between your toes Ashfur sees it too.

Ashfur walks over and examines it then without warning you he pins your leg down and yanks the thorn ou t making you yowl in pain. Your paw starts to bleed heavily as Ashfur takes his weight off your leg. "Come on I will help you get back to camp." he says helping you find balance onn your three good legs.

"That hurt you know!" you snap hurtfully at him. "Wouldyou rather have Jayfeather do it?" he asked helping you limp torward camp. "Mabye." you say he is a med cat afer all. When you get back to camp you and Ashfur go strait to the medicine cat den. You get your paw wrapped and are told to stay off it for at least a moon. You tell your mate that your no longer mates with him and he justgoes annd fonds another.

Your laying in your nest in the warriors den thats completely empty besides you when for the first time in what feels like moons but is actually a few minutes you hear paws coming over to you you look up and see Ashfur with a fat vole in his jaws. "though you mifgh beef hungree" he says with his mouth full of fur. You giggle at this as he lays it down gor you. He starts to lick your neck fur and you purr happily. "Y/w/n would you like to be my I mate?" he asks staring deep into . your e/c orbs and his gray nose touching your soft n/c one. You nod and he licks your nose. They next thing you knew you where sleeping in the same nest and you loved to lay your head on his soft chest and listen to his heart beat as he slept one arm around your neck as you cuddled. Some cats thought it was cute and loved that you both moved on

-timeskip brought to you by mousefur almost scared out of her pelt-

It had been ten moons sense you and ashfur became mates and you went to go see Jayfeather about a strong pain in your abdomen it started as you where on potrol and got worse so Lionblaze helped you get back to camp even though you told him repeatedly you where fine then Ashfur forced you to go telling Lionblaze to escort you. When you got in the medicine cat den Jayfeather was checking you and he kept placing his paw or both paws on your stomach area and you started getting annoyed at him. He finally came to a concllusion. "You are gonna have kits!" he told you warmly. As you stared at him dumbfounded and you got up and ran out ofthe medicine cat clearing and almost trampled Lionblaze who was laying carlessly in front on the medicine cat area

"Heywhats the rush?!?" he said bewildered. "Sorry Lionblaze i need to find Ashfur now!" you said nerouse and excited. You aearched the clearing and saw Ashfur sunning himself outside the warriors den. You walk over to him in no rush at all and he looks up at you. "Better?" he asks. "Not quite." you say sitting down next to him. "Why whats wrong? are you sick? are you okay? are you dying?!?!?!?" he asks you worriied and circling you while sniffing you. "Jayfeather just told me that I m gonna have kits!"you say excitedly. He stops and looks at you " kits." he echoed then smiled "kits our kits?! Little kits like you and me?!" he said happily. "Yes!" you say excitedly. He licked your head.

He cuddled with you when you had to sleep in the nursery. And when the kits were coming he stayed with you. You had three kits you named them Cinderkit, Dapplekit and Rainkit (it was raining when you had the kits a soft sweet rain not hard or threatening in any way.) the kits grew up to become Cinderleaf, Dappleheart and Rainwhisker.

"Authors note" .- hi if you read this then I want you to know I really dont care if the setting is correctwith my story and thanks for reading hope to update soon!- 🐈‍⬛🐾⚡

Lionblaze x reader

You where walking through the forest in search of prey when you realize you are really close to the shadow clan border. You back away from it a bit and continue on. Suddenly something barrels you over and pins you down you muzzle hitting the forest floor painfully. You curse at your apponent and try to wriggle free but it doesn't work you mange to get in a position where you can see your captore. A huge tabby tomb is pinning you down claws unsheathed you are moved back in place and you feel his jaws wrap around your f/c neck and you let out a terrified hiss then you feel the weight lifted off you as you see another tom run through the bushes. 'Lionblaze!' you think relivingly and happily. Lionblaze run torwards you and grabs you scruff and half guides half drags you away into the bushes.

He lets go of your scruff once your both away from Shadowclan territory. "Are you alright?" he asks some what protectivly. You fell your f/c cheeks heat up with embarrassment and nervousness "I-I m f-fine."you answer unsteadily. You have had a crush on this strong and lean warrior ever sence the first day you saw him as an apprentice. The borh of you became best friends and you told each other secrets if you felt that someone needed to know without telling. The only secret you never told him was the crush you had. 'why had he been at the scene so quickly?' you thought staring blankly at him. Then he starts to walk torwards you and you back up only to be stopped by a huge fallen tree. Soon your nose is hardly a baby mouse lenght from his. He stares you in the eyes seaching for something you hold your breath as he stares absently deep into your e/c orbs. Then the brushes rustle and out comes the tom th at tried to kill you.

Suddenly filled withrage and hate you lung at him and swip you claws repeatedly over his muzzle. Suddenly you hear a hiss from him and you are swung into a tree and the breath roughly gets knocked out of you. Gasping for air you feel claws dig into your sides and teeth bit at you shoulder. You yowl and claw at his back leg suddenly feeling dizzy your head falls to the floor and he meows triumphintly. Then his wieght is pulled off you and you see Lionblaze fighting him and moments later he runs off screeching back to his territory. Lionblaze looks at you his ear bleeding heavily, he walks over to you and snifs your body, he goes back to your shoulder, sits down, and starts to lick it gentally. You lift your head and sniff at his ear and it twiches as you start to lick the blood off.

Lionblaze lays down next to you and sighs. "Are you ok? You didn't have to fight him for me." you say modestly. "Yes I did." he replys staring into the bushes. "Why ok why did you 'have' to save me I am not that important you could have just let him kill me, why did you have to why did you-" you say before he cuts you off "because I love you!" he says then his ears flaten and he looks embarrassed. Pitifully you lick his cheek and whisper "I love you to." you role on you back and Lionblaze puts one strong paw on your soft f/c chest. You both cuddle and always are with eachother the most of the time.

Moons later you have 4 kits softkit, nightkit, firekit, and leopardkit. They are strong and talented and they grow up to be softfoot, nightflower, firepelt, and leopardtail.

Jayfeather x reader

You woke up slowly blinking your eyes that where clouded with sadness. Your mate had died in a battle moons ago and your 3 kits had died the minute they where born about 1 moon after there fathers death leaving you alone. Most cats in the clan tried to make you feel better but eventually stopped trying making you feel even more alone you even stopped getting called out on patrols, sith nothing to do, you sat up and yawned quietly. You discided to go hunting, you got up and left the warriors den, the sun shining beautifully off your f/c pelt. You trotted out of camp and into the forest, mind clouded with thought. You hardly noticed the mouse that scurried across your paws, "mouse-dung!" you said and bolted after it and into a rose bush, you caught the mouse but as soon as you tried to leave you wailed in pain the needly thorns in your paws and tugging at you well groomed and soft f/c pelt. You cursed at the bush and tore yourself from it mouse griped firm in your jaws you felt pain ripple up your back.

You egnored it and burried your mouse and continued your hunt. You cauught a rabbit, ten large fat voles and two birds. You where going back to camp when the same pain rippled up your back making you shiver. You put down your prey and look at where the pain is coming from and gasp wjphen you see a large and big cut on your side, it had to be deep it was still bleeding. You start to lick it and hear something you never thought you would hear ever again. "Y/n? Y/n! What are you doing out here?!" you hear the familiar friendly voice of Jayfeather as he steps out from the bushes pelt fluffed out and messy. He stares at you blankly and sniffs the air smelling your blood and steps forward moving closer to examine it. "How did you get this cut?" he asked blanly. "I think from a rose bush?" you say half confidently half unsure. "Hmf ya a 'rose bush' did it" he said grumpily. You stare upsetly at him, Jayfeather had always treated you kindly and never stopped, why was he bitter all the sudden. You force yourself to your paws and he stares at you a little shocked.

"I'm fine Jayfeather, it doesn't hurt." you say unenthusiastically. He gives you a smirk that says 'oh really' then he lifts his paw and presses in hard against your cut. You wince and bit back a meor of pain, Jayfeather notices and removes his paw. "So does it 'not hurt' or are you faking?" he teases. You glance at him but your glar softens as he puts on a 'I'm a cut kit' face. You sigh and he stands. And beckons with his tail for you to follow, you pick up your prey and follow. When you get back to camp cats stare at you and Jayfeather curiously. You walk over to the fresh kill pile and set down the prey you caught, you then walk after Jayfeather torwards the medicine cat den, it was empty and peaceful looking. You sit down while Jayfeather sniffs around his herds and picks up a few, the groung was soggy and there where puddles because of recent rainfall, he then walks over to you and nearly slips on a puddle. When he gets to you je sniffs at the wound again and starts to clean it, it hurts at first but the pain ebs away to the smooth stroking. He then grumbles as he sniffs through the herds he got, he pickes one up and presses it hard on the cut. "Ow! Is that supposed to hurt?!?!" you say bluntly. "Sorry I guess that I pressed to hard." he says lightening the force on the wound.

You stare at the floor angrily and Jayfeather scoots closer to you and licks your head and ears. You blush under your f/c pelt at his actions and turn your head and start licking his neck fur.

"Thanks Jay," you mewed lovingly

Nearly 8 moons later. (Having a forbidden relationship that is hidden) You have rainkit, poppykit, and mosskit. You named them adter things you saw in the medicine cat sen and after the weather of when you where in his den all those moons ago.

Tallstar x reader

Your walking through your terriory patrolling alone. You go to the Thunderclan border and sniff around, no scent of any Thunderclan cats. You keep your mind on track and run to the direction of the Shadowclan border when you get there you cringe your nose. "Eeyuck! This smells worse than anything I've ever smelled!" you spat at the repulsive stench. "Aww now thats not very nice now is it? I need to teach you a lesson!" a strange and unfamiliar voice says. Suddenly something heavy lands on your back and you slam to the floor painfully. "Yow!" you spit at your attacker. You wirl around and claw at him while jumping to your paws. Hissing and spitting you and the Shadow clan warrior roll over and over untill you feel his teeth clamp around your throat, you let out a small terrified shriek as it gets tighter, you alow yourself to go limp in his grasp and he swings you around and shakes your strong, lean and skinny body and you see a chance and claw at his soft neck. He drops you as he yowls in pain.

Then he lunges at you and rakes his sharp claws down your side, over and over again one both sides of your body. You collaps as he lay a strong and hard blow on your sholder. You heave as he towers over you tthen he is about to lay a killing bite when you see fur flash past you and barrel over him. "Morningflower!" you screech as she battles with the wounded tom. Then Tallstar runs out of the bushes ears pricked at the sound of battlee, noticing you he rund over and snifs at your wounds, then unexpectedly he starts to lick them you hardly notice as your best friend fights the now badly wounded tom. He runs off and Morningflower walks over to you panting. Tallstar is now sitting up and staring at Morningflower. "Come, lets get y/n back to camp." he say walking to her and sniffing a scratch on her sholder she nod s and starts walking back to camp. Tallstar sighs then grabs you by the scruff and starts dragging you back to camp.

When you reach the camp Tallstar continues dragging youas you try to get a hold on the ground, you fail miserably. When you make it to the medicine cats den barkface is there sorting through herds. After you have be taken care of you trot out of the medicine cat den and look around you see Tallstar talking to his deput Deadfoot. He glances at you a few times nut continues to talk to Deadfoot. Deadfoot nods in agreement and walks off to start organizing patrols. Tallstar beckons you over with his tail and you walk almost drag yourself to him and sit down staring into his amber eyes. "I expect that you are still in need to recover?" he asks. Tou stare at the floor and nod "Barkface said I cant go on patrols or fight in battles if there are any."you reply staring at your paws as if they where interesting.

"Come please." Tallstar says standing up and heading torwards his den, you follow and when you get in you sit and stare at your paws again feeling nervouse. Then Tallstar puts his paw under your chin and lifts it. Now you are staring into him amber eyes meeting your e/c eyes. You blush a bit as he stares suspisiously into your eyes. You shuffle trying to get comfortable when your nose moves forward and touches his. You both jerk your heads back and stare unblinkingly at eachother akwardly.

You slowly start edging out of his den but he walks up and nudges you on the flank andd you move further into his den. "Sorry if this seems akward but I really do have something to tell you." he say s still nudging you torwards the nest in the back of his den. "Ok what is it then?" you ask. "Well I.. I just... Its ....I kind of sort of ... L-lo...." he starts shakily sitting behind you blocking your only exit. You sit on the nest and understand "don't worry I-I love you to." you say it akward in the silence of the den. He stares at you then nods. You get up and lick his cheek he licks your scarred neck fur and you both cuddle in the ndst for the rest of the night

Moons later you have 6 kits skykit, birchkit, goldenkit, blackkit, eaglekit, and smallkit. Tallstar is happy that you had kits and you both love them all.

Yf/n = your friends name

Btw its leafbare so its snowy and stuff.

You are patroling the Thunderclan border with your friend yf/n when she/he stops at the sunning rocks. "Bet you cant cross them!"she/he dares. "Oh you bet I can!"you say then leap and latch onto the slippery rock. Then you look over to the far shore and see a Thunderclan cat wa t ching you as he hids under a bush. The muscular brown tabby stares at you hostily with his burning amber eyes. Suddenly you feel adrenaline and lung yourself at the n ext rock and the next and the next, until you are standing on the rock closest to the shore, the tabby runs out from his hiding place and lashes his claws at your face he scratches your muzzle and nose you hear your friend wail out to you in a stressed way. You stumble bqck as he swips at you again, your paw completely misses the edge of the rock and you let out the loudest wail you ever made in your hole life befor plunging in the freezing cold water. You paddle your numd paws to try and find the surface but you fail and feel pain graze you spine as your back gets cut by a submerged rock.

Feeling like this is the end you let out your breath and see the world of freezing water fading as you feel teeth latch around you scruff your body goes numb to the water and you slip into a daze as you are haled from the water in an uncomfortable manner. "Y/N!" you hear the voice of yf/n call from a far distance as you finally slip into nothingness.

It was dark and you didn't want to open your eyes being afraid of what you might see. Starclan? Or still alive? You asked yourself over and over again as you watched your "death" over and over again. Who grabbed me from the water? It wasn't yf/n nut you couldn't get a scent of who it was. You remember the far away choked cry as she/he called out your name. Then you finally disided thatmif you are in Starclan then thats where you are. Slowly you open you dull e/c and blaink as you see the dull colors of the real world. You let out small quiet sigh of relief as you reconize you are in the safe den of Mudfur who was siting and grooming his fur. He glances at you once and stops grooming himself. "Its about time everyone was starting to think you would never wake up!" he exclaimed happily. "H-how l-long have I been asleep?" you ask slowly. "Days I lost track after one moon past." he said thoughtfully. "A-a moon!" you say as you sit up and try to stand but a ripple of pain tells you other wise. "Well don't stand your gonna open it ip more." he growled. You look behind you and see a cut on the edge of your spine all the way down to your flank. You slump down onto the nest and start to groom where the tabby tomb scratched your muzzle.

Mudfur rubed something that stunk on your wound and it burned a little. You heard paw steps coming into the medicine cat area. You looked to see you best friend yf/n standing, jaw droped open. "Your awake!" she/he cried out happily. He/she ran over to you and started nuzzling your neck fur gentally. "I was wondering who... Who saved me?" you whispered in her/his ear. He/she backs up "It was Crookedstar he heared you and went to get you, it should hhave neen me." he/she said with dissapointment. "Its ok I understand you where in shock I would have done the same thing." you say reasuringly.

That would explain why the hold on your scruf was a little crooked. You looked at Mudfur and he sighed. "You can go if it doesn't hurt." he a said. You force yourself to your paws ignoring the pain and walk with yf/n supporting you just in case. You walk out of the sweet smelling den and into the warm sun light in the clearing. The cats stare at you as you walk out and lay down not far from the med cat den. Your friend goes and comes back with a fish and sets it down so you can eat it. "Thank you" you say as you stare at it. Out of the corner of your eye you see the pale brown coat of your leader Crookedstar sitting out side of his den staring at you with interest.you eat your fish feeling your f/c pelt heat up as his light green eyes bore into you. You cant help but glance at gim as he stares at you.

Then he got up and started walking over to you. You couldn't help but think how his huge muscles rippled as he walked and how bright his eyes where and also how his hansome well groomed light brown fur shone in the sun gentally. "Y/n glad to see your up and well" his words where sweet as he sat and stared at you with kind eyes that made you melt. He lay down and stretched his back legs in the warm sun light. You where not thinking when you presses you muzzle into his soft and sweet smelling fur.

Noticing what you just did you jerk you head back andhit yf/n onthe muzzle with your head. "Oww!" he/she says rubbing her muzzle. You stare akwardly at Crookedstar and notice his shock. Feeling the burning eyes of the clan you scramble to your paws and scamper to the hidden area behind the medicine cat den. And see an opening and push your way out running off in the direction of four trees. You are almost there in a few seconds fear and embarassment feeding your energy. You get to four trees in no time and scramble up an oaktree and sit on a branch close to the floor but high enough to be far from the ground.

You catch your breath and stare at the place where the Thunderclan cats usually come down from for the gathering. You already caught your breath and where regreting everything that happened. You ruined your relationship with Crookedstar and now you made a fool of yourself. How would everyone see you now? You hear the soft fall of paws and jerk your head to see Crookedstar following your scent trail. Of course Crookedstar why would he let anyone else come I nuzzled him. You thought angrily at yourself.

You weren't paying attent i on to him and nearly jumped out of your pelt when he proded at you with his paw. "Crookedstar! What? Why did you follow me?" you hissed nervously at him as you felt like your pelt was on fire. "Because your wounded and you need to stay in camp. Also I know how to climb trees." he said staring emotionlessly at you. "Well leave I can come back when I feel like it." you say unsincerly. "No you are coming back now." he say with seriousness. "Mmm make me" you say flustered and amused.

Without warning he jumps at you and the both of you fall off the branch and roughly on the floor. Crookedstar tries to grip you but you wriggle away and with showing amusment say"catch me if you can, fish face." he gives in and gives a mischievous and cute crooked smile before casing after you all around the clearing where the gathering took place. Finally you trip and fall and cant get up because your exausted. Crookedstar leaps and traps you as he hovers above you hardly panting as he stares at you with playfulness.

He let's you get up and you roll onto your belly, the sky a beautiful color as it set he lay next to you and you felt drowsy and your eyes slowly closed

You wake up and see that you are in Mudfurs den. Was it a dream? You wonder then feel a pelt brush against you and look to see Crookedstar cuddling next to you. You know it wasn't a dream and rest your head on his soft bellyfur as you both sit in the warmth of the rising sun.

Moons later you have four kits one has her fathers lightbrown fur and your e/c, the tom has your f/c fur and green eyes, the last female has a light gray almost white pelt with soft light brown paws and belly and amber eyes, and the last male has the dark brown fur of oakheart and light blue eyes.

Longtail x reader

You are out hunting when you sit unintently and pick up the mouse you caught with one claw and fling it not far from you "you call that prey?!?" you mock Longtail. "Oh ho ho ho! How I absolutly dispise that flea biten tom!" you spit thinking of how he treats you "always pushing me shoving me thinking Im not cut out to be a warrior! I wish he would just go and slit his own throat!" you say tail swishing with anger. "Thats not very nice" a familiar voice sounds behind you. You whirl around fur bristling."LONGTAIL! What do you want!"you growl fur still raised. "Your louder than a dog! I came to make you shut up!" he said sneering at your hatred. You leap into the bushes and start Running torwards Tall pines dodging trees and hurdling over rocks fastly.

You run in to a clearing in Tall pines and the scent hits you like a rock 'a dog!' you whirl aroumd to run but see the dog sniffing at the bushes you came through. You crouch to hid but its to late and the dog already sees your f/c shining in the sun light. The dog runs torward you happily and you shoot up and run torwards the bushes. Feeling the dogs breath on your tail you give up and turn only to have the dog run hou over it turns grabs your torso in its jaws and shakes you violently you claw at its throat as you feel your fur being torn apart. It drops you and you feel its jaws clamp aroumd the back of your throat and place a heavy blow on the side of its head. It lets go and runs off torwards two leg place. You hear paws thudding on the forest floor. The forest was spinning around you and blobs of trees and bushes past were dancing in the red mist that covered your vision. It swirled into a mass of colors and you felt yours slf swaying on your paws someone cried, " y/w/n!!!" and the ground rushed up to meet you very suddenly.

You felt yourself being dragged and heard someone mumbleing thing in anger. You open your eyes alittle but wide enough to see the forest bluring past you as someone dragged you by your scruff.

'whos there?' you try to say but it comes out as a gurgled grunt. Almost imediatly the forest stops blurring and you are set on the floor. A pale tabby tom steps in front of you and looks down at you with anger and worry. 'Longtail?' you try again to speak only to have it come out as a cough. He looks at you emotionlessly and dips his head and shoves his muzzle into your neck. S pain shoots up your neck and you try to push him away but it doesn't work. Then you realize he is licking your neck. You blush madly and push him away.

You try to talk again but only say"ca" before going into a coughing fit. Then you gave him alook that let him know you knew who it was."Dont speak you'll only hurt yourself more." he said. You gave him a look of shock at how gentle and kind his voice was. He then went behind you and picked you up heading torwards camp fast. Feeling dizzy you shut your eyes and fall into a troubled sleep. You are back at Tall pines and the dog is attacking you you struggle in its grasp as you fall from its jws and it starts biying you. Then it throws you off a cliff and you wake up. You jump to your paws fur bristling. "Its ok! Just lay back down." cinderpelts voice calms you and you let your fur lay flat.

"You where sleeping for about three sun rises, your healed though so you can leave if you want." she told you. You nod and lick her ear, she purrs and you walk out. You stop in the sunny clearing sniffing and are shocked when you realize who your sniffing for. You walk torwards the fresh kill pile smiling and noding at cats who say they are relifed to see your ok. You stop and take a chaw finch and walk away to where you would always eat, by the bramble wall, as to not draw attention to yourself. You watch cats come and go doing their regular warrior duties. You notice not once does Longtail come in or out, worried you gind his scent and follow it out into the forest it heads torwards sunning rocks and you run to sunning rocks. When you are there you sneak in the bushes and see Longtail lounging on a rock relived you double back making sure not to ruin his peace.

A few days later- you've been having the same nightmare of the dog and hardly get any sleep. You need some peace and go in the direction of the windclan border. You find a place in the roots of a tree far enough from the camp and the Thunder path to where you can get some peace. Relaxing you shut your eyes. And your ear twitches as the breeze blows gentally against your f/c pelt. Feeling tired you lay down resting your head on your paws and closing your eyes. You have the same nightmare again exept Longtail is there and he gets torn to shreads. You wake up with a scream. Longtail then pushes his way into the hidout and stares at you wildly. "LONGTAIL?!?" you say shakily. "Whats wrong I heard you scream" he asks. "O-Oh its ok I-I just had a nightmare" you said shaking as you crouched fur bristling. He stares at you "really? A warrior shouldn't get scared over a nightmare." he sneered like he always did. You look away and felt tears burning your throat and eyes. Then you let them fall as he continued to sneer at you, you lay down curling up and put a paw over your face as you continue to cry.

He must've noticed you crying because as soon as you put your paw on your face he was quiet and walked over to you and nuzzled your f/c neck making you raise your head and stare into his green eyes. You look away and lay your head in between your paws.

"I'm sorry Ok, its just that..." He trailed off and you flicked your eyes up at him.

His tail wrapped around your side as he took a deep breath and mewed, "I love you...."

You were shocked but quickly purred, pressing your muzzle into his neck fur.

"Don't worry, I love ya too"

Moons later they have two kits a tom and a she-kit. The tom has your f/c with black stripes and black paws his name is smokekit. The she-kit has Longtail s pale taby pelt with half her body your f/c the half that looks like you has Longtails green eye and vice versa.

Her name is halfkit.

When they grow up they become smokefoot and halfpelt. They become strong warriors and have kits of their own.

Hope you enjoyed and please comment below! ;-;

Hawkfrost x reader

You where sleeping peacfully in a bright clearing, your f/c shining. You yawn and blink your e/c eyes open. You are a young 10 moons old and very talented. You jump to your paws and walk out into the forest you walk a far distance away from your clearing when the bushes start to rustle. You get into a crouch and let your hackles rise. A brown fured animal co.es out and without identifing it you jump at it and claw it. You then clamp your jaws around its throat killing it. You look down at it. 'A rabbit?' you think looking down at the dead animal. You pick it up and put it in a bush. 'I'll get it later' you think. Then the bushes across from you rustle and a large dark tabby tom stalks out of them, your hackles rise and your ears flattenas his ixy blue gmlare bores into you. You are WAY smaller than him. You turn and run in the opposite direction but you hear his paws pound against the ground as he chases you. You go in a zig-zag run but he still follows you, you run harder and faster getting ahead of him. You then run into a cluster of bushes and trip on a root. You fall onto the floor weezing and heaving heavily. You look up and see llittle yellow berries. They might give me strength you think and grab a mouthful of them you chew them and regret swallowing the bitter berries. You try to get up but your legs collapse under you. Your body feels numb and you cant move anything on your body exept your eyes. You hear him come in to the bushes and see him step in front of you

Then his strong and threatening voice sounds "you can't excape me now get up"

You try to but fail and try to tell him but also fail at that to.

"I said get up!" he growls hostily

Your feel your tears start to fall and he pushes you on your other side forcfully with his paw and stare at you curiously "whats the matter cant move now?" he snickers. You look at the berries that where on the bush and he looks at them because you did. "So you ate the berries on this bush? Not very smart now is that?" you are surprised by the way his voice was now gentaller and teasing. Then he grabs your scruff and pulls you out of the bushes and half carrys half drags you into unfamiliar places

When yoget to his camp clan place tje medicine cat takes care of you and you are aloud you to sta uh because the clan leader says you have 'gifts' the clan needs.

-time skip brought to you by ivykit-

It had been moons sence you joined the clan and Hawkfrost always watched you and and it made you mad. He was a ruthless and crude cat why does he always watch me. Luckily he went out earlier and has been gone for a while. You feel like hunting so you go up to Mistyfoot and she gives you permission to go. You walk out of camp and catch the sent of a rabbit you follow it and stalk it. Then you pounce and kill it. You burry it for later and continue on. You travle far from the camp. And venture close to the Shadowclan border. Then toms jump out of no where and pin you down painfully. They dance around you as one very large tom holds you down baring his claws into your soft fur.

You struggle to free your self but fail miserably. Then a white tom jumps on you and claws at you. You hiss and start to cry. They just laugh in amusment. You continue to cry while he claw you over and over again in the same spots. 'I wish Hawkfrost was hear' a small voice echos in your head as you continue to cry in pain. Then your prayers are answered and Hawkfrost bursts through the bushes and starts violently attacking the cats. You wipe away your tears with your paw and pit your head up as the cats go running. Then he walks over to you and sniffs you. "Are you ok?" he asks blue eyes gental. This doesn't confuse you because he always was this way to you. "I'm fine" you say and stand up. Then you both walk back into the forest. Then he sits and you stare at him.

"Why where you out here"he demands. "I was hunting" you reply simply. He flicks his ears in dis believe. "I DON'T NEED TO TELL YOU EVERYWHERE I'VE BEEN AND IF YOU DON'T BELIEVE ME THEN FINE!" you hiss. His expression darkens and his blue eyes turn to ice. You feel frightened at his new expression, you never saw it before. "you are foolish if you truely think I care and your very mouse-brained if you believe that I saved you because I wanted to. You are nothing but another pityfull clan mate who cant even defend yourself." he spat. You felt your heart tighten and feel empty at his words. Your throat stinged and you felt frightened and unwanted. You knew he cared for you so this hurt alot.

You turned, flicked your tail, and ran of you started to cry immediately and felt like you just lost everything you ever had or will have. You skidded to a stop but still slammed into a tree. You turned and ran in to a slightly familiar cluster of bushes. You ploped down and curled your tail around your side and covered you face with your paws. You cried silently and felt your heart shatter. Cbut yyou'll always be my hero' you though your tear stopping and you didn't even attempt to wipe your wet cheeks. Your mind drifted and you fell into a sadistic sleep. When you woke the sun was high in the sky you and you felt not in your pelt.

You weren't ready to go back to camp yet so you just layed there thinking about how dark and frightening Hawkfrost was. Your eyes were still damp, because you cried again, from the words he left ringing in your head. It felt as if he knew just how to break you. Although it felt like he literaly broke your chest because your heart hurt alot. You heard a twig snap just outside the bushes that hid you perfectly. You looked up as the bushes rustled and a familiar dark brown tabby stepped in blimking his blue eyes. You turned away from him and lay your head down in between your front paws. "There you are, you didn't go back to camp and-"before he could continue you inturupted him. " and why should I m so you can yell at me more?" you say staring into the bushes. There was a silence and then he spoke "i was mad and you know that I do care so you should've came back either way."he stated.

"If you care then why didn't you say anythingor do anything" you say still not looking at him. You felt his pelt brush against you and you look at jim and see his blue eyes gental. He brushed his face against yours. He put his paw on your side and pulled you closer making you roll the smallest bit on your side.

"I already apologized." His new was muffled as he buried his face into your fur in obvious embarrassment

You gave his ears tender licks and purred.

"Well can you do it again, to make sure you are." You mewed mischeviously

His icy blue eyes flicked up to your e/c ones and he muttered the apology again. You purred and twirled your tails together.

Moons later you have had two kits named thistlekit and frostkit. Hawkfrost had died two days before they where born and you still missed him very much. The kits grew up to be thistlestripe and frostbite. When you passed you where supprised to wale up in the dark forest. Hawkfrost found you and you where happy to see him. You didn't care you where in the dark forest. You where with him thats all that mattered.

Dustpelt x reader

You where laying down by the warriors den raking the cool dirt with your claws fusteratedly. Why? Why does that hair ball need to be in love with sandstorm, cant he look beyond that, what does she have that I dont? You wonder. You look up to where sandstorm was sitting and growled under your breath. I have to do something I can't just let him moon over her without her even wanting to be with him. Oh Dustpelt why do you have to be so difficult you think. You are a young warrior with smooth, soft, and sleak f/c fur. You also have e/c eyes that seem to glow in the sunlight. You are jostled out of your thoughts when graystripe pokes you with his paw.

"You are on a border patrol" he tells you

"May I go alone?" you ask. He looks unsertain then nods.

With that you bound out of camp. You finish patroling and diside to take a short cut through snake rocks it is a faster way then going around it which you usually did because you where afraid to get bit. Today was different you where gonna face your fear. You where half way through it when you heared leaves rustling. You turned and gasped when you saw a giant adder following you. It stood up and hissed, frozen in place by fear and panic your mind went blank, you tried to hiss back but all that came out was a loud squeak. Panicing you stood there staring it in the eyes then it reeled its head back to strike. You still stood there brain nothing but blank, then a thought poped in your head, I'M going to die! Scared you shook your head and your eyes narrowed into slits. I will NOT die at least not before I see Dustpelt one last time! You charge forward and grab. The snakes head and crush it with your powerful jaws. The snake went limp and you spat it out and stared at it with triumph. Then panick griped you again when you felt a seering pain shoot up your hind leg. You turned and nearly started crying when you saw a smaller adder had just bit you and was swivling away. You let tears fall and started gasping, you broke into a run and when you where at the ravin you fell down it painfully.

"Y/w/n?!?" you heared someone say and the world turned black.

Stars swirled and cats where suddenly next to you. Am I dead? You asked. No it is not your time the blue-gray she cat said. Then they swirled and you fell into darkness. You heared the slow steady breathing of another cat and opened your eyes. Leafpool was sleeping in her nest and you where in a nest not far from her. You looked down at your leg and there where four puncture wounds where the snake had bit you. You looked around and saw the sun just barly rising over the trees. "Oh your (yawn) awake" you Leafpool said stretching. "What happened?" you asked.

"Mmmm. Dustpelt saw you fall down the ravine when he was going out hunting. He carried you in here and watched you for a while. He left at moonhigh after graystripe told him he's on dawn patrol and to go hunting after that." Leafpool explained. You blinked, Dustpelt? I thought he didn't like me, you think. "Well you are ok to go just don't get bit again" she joked. You nod and leave her den.

The clearing is quiet and peaceful. The usual cats come up and say how happy they are your alright. You are impatiently waiting for Dustpelt to come back and are laying by the medicine cat den in the sun. Then at sunhigh he finally enters the camp. Not wanting to rush you wait for him to set down his prey but then he walks over to sandstorm and starts to talk to her. You growl low and realize he will never love you or be with you. Heart heavy you slink out of the enterance of the camp and head back torwards snake rocks hoping for a challenge. Your at sunning rocks and climb the rocks also looking for a snake. You reach the top and look down. You realize you can smell the scent you left the night you got bitten.

You lay down in fustration. Where are all the snakes? You hear leafs rustle and think its a snake. You crouch and afurry creature steps out and tries to grab you. A FOX! You sscreech in your mind. You run the fox following closly. You run into a twoleg thing and it tightens around your front paw. You try to escape but fail. You let out a wail as the fox gets closer and teads roll down your face. Then Dustpelt jumps out from a bush and claws at the fox. The fox backs away and runs. You pull and tug at the contraption but it stays tight. Dustpelt walks over panting an cuts the wire with his claw. You back up and look at your paws as he glares at you.

"Why where you here again" he growls

"I was gonna try to... Hunt" you lie.

You lookup into his orangeish-amber eyes. "I was- thats it Im done acting like this is nothing because it's something" you said. Dustpelt just stared at you in confusion.

"Dustpelt I loveyou" you say th e n squeeze your eyes shut. There is silence and you wonder if he left. Then you feel Dustpelt brush his fur with yours and you open your eyes. Dustpelt leans forward and licks your nose. You blush and bo t h walk back to camp.

I don't care T_T

I do not care how accurate my timelines are because I really like the old territory better than the lake so do not correct me on how there is no snake rocks or whatever at the lake yes I am aware of the clans reloction so don't like it tough luck. 😎🐱✌🐈🐾🐉🌠⚡☄🌊

The choice is yours

Soooooooo I want my readers to vote on which cat Ishould do next for this. Here are your options.

-Male! Hollyleaf

-Ashfur ✔

-Greystripe

-Hollyleaf

-Firepaw (read the name again to know which one I am talking about) ✔

-Smudge ✔

-Onestar (more like uno star! get it?)

-Foxleap (or what ever the f*ck his name is)

-Toadstep

-Toadfoot (of Shadowclan. Right?)

-Mousewhisker

Please comment on which one I should do first please and say if I should put a short lemon with it or not please and thank you!

thx a ton!

Firepaw x reader

A/n no mature content in this one. Sorry if you wanted it. I mightndo it in the next one. Maybe.

You sat in the tree watching the forest below you. Sometimes you would see forest cats and only once were you caught out of a the moons you came here. You were young, about the age of a clan apprentice. But you didn't live in the clans. You are a loner.

The lives of these cats intrested you and you wanted so badly to talkwith them or even join them but your mother hissed at you and scratched you anytime you mentioned the clans. If you joined them she said she would track you down and have your tail off.

You heard a rustling of leaves under you and looked down to see a flame colored tom who seemed to be young but still older than you. Seeing an opportunity you jumped down to a branch that was closer to the grownd. You hesitated but a loud noise from behind you made you jump and fall face first to the grownd.

The flame colored tom whirled around his fur bristling in alarm. You groaned as the taste of blood filled your mouth and you realized you bit your tounge. You sat up and spat out blood then let you tounge hang limply out of your mouth, not enjoying the taste of your own blood.

You flicked your e/c eyes up at the tom who seemed to be more relaxed. You pulled your tounge back in your mouth as it began to feel dry and then shook a few bits of dirt and grass off of your ruffled f/c pelt.

His green eyes scanned you half suspisiously and half curiously.

"What? Never seen a loner before?" you mewed wryly while cocking your head to the side and flopping one ear lazily.

"Of course I have but you are..... Different." he mewed coarsely.

"Different? DIFFERENT?!? What in the name of clans do you mean different?!"

"I mean you seem like your not a loner. Like your'e a clan cat. I mean how many loners will voluntarily come to a place where other cats are. They don't get the name loner for nothing." he mewed back

"Well maybe I don't want to be a loner." you trailed off.

He perked his ears. "Then why don't you join?"

"Because if I did my mother wouldn't take it well. She would track me down and do something."you mewed miserably.

He hummed and seemed to fall into a dreamy thought. You took the time of his thinking to better observe him and see if you could beat him, if needed, in a fight. You realized your best chance would be to out run him although you weren't very fast.

Then the cat spoke up "well then I will just force you to join." he mewed with a hint of meaning.

Then you understood and noded your head.

"Yeah 'force'" you mewed

You squealed in excitment and bowled him over. He was shocked but then the shock melted away into happiness and affection. You kept talking about what lofe in the clans was like and how excited you were.

You learned his name and soon Firepaw got annoyed by your endless blabbering that, to shut you up, he stuffed his tail in your mouth. You were warmly welcomed to the clan by most cats but a few seemed to dispise you always saying "loners don't belong in a clan." but everytime you were mistreated Firepaw stood up for you and when you became a warrior you and Fireheart became mates but kept that sscret so Tigerstar couldn't use it to his advantage.

Omg I just have to add this: And you lived Happily Ever After, The End!

Your collar jingled as you walked into your friend Smudge's yard.
"Smudge! You there?" you called out.
You heard the bushes rustle as the black and white tom stepped out, ruffled fur and a dreamy look on his face.
You bit your tounge, holing in your laughter. You sniffed the air.
Nice to see he hasn't been to the vet yet
He took a few steps toward you before tipping over and rolling onto his back.
You nudged him.
"Common, lets go play something, your too lazy for your own good." you growled playfully.
"I was taking a nap. Cant you go play by yourself."
You snorted.
"Fine... I'll go play in the forest then."
He jumped to his paws at that. "Nevermind, I feel much more energetic now!"
"Thats what I thought." you cheered
You spent the rest of the afternoon playing with feathers of anything you found interesting. You then laid down with Smudge and started to dose off into sleep.
"Y/n."
"Huh?" you hummed.
"I think... I think I love you."
You purred "I guess I love ya too."
And with that you fell asleep together.
(lazzzzzyyyy but I guess I'm in that same boat.)

Cuz ya know. Yea ok then... You are reading the story of one weird and really lazy author.

You sat by the river, your e/c orbs reflecting the sparkling light the sun gave the river. You watched as the smooth water flowed endlessly, around the stones somewhere far in the distance.

You had the sensation of being watched and removed your calm eyes away from the river and to the Thunderclan forest across from you. You thought you could see movement so you stood and backed into the shadows, eyes narrowing into slits as you saw a cat with thick grey fur slip into view.

The warm breeze buffeted your fur and made it flatten. You watched the cat weave its way through the bushed on the other side before stopping and looking out over the river in your direction.

You purposefully stood and strode out of your place, head held high and tail hovering elegantly over the ground as you walked by the river, ignoring the cat that watched you with great interest.

You stopped at a pool of river water that seemed deep. Aware of the cats unending stare, you leaped forward and dove under the water, swimming down before biting into a large fish then going back up and dropping it on the shore.

You heard the sound of small rocks falling,a gasp of surprise, and a small splash on the shore opposite of you. You turned and stared, bewildered, the grey tom cat had apparently tripped, falling down the bank and into the shallow end of the river.

You bit back a laugh as the cat surged out of the water and shook himself. He muttered something about how he hated water in his fur.

"Maybe next time you should watch where your walking instead of watching me." You purred loudly in amusement

The tom grinned, eyes shining.

"I would but I can't help but stare when a starclan warrior is standing across from me"

Your ears heated up.

Is he trying to flirt ?

Your tail flicked, picking up your fish you started to go back into your territory.

"Wait!" You heard the ThunderClan tom mew

You looked back at him.

"Meet me here, please? At Moonhigh?" He pleaded

You hesitated before flicking your tail in agreement and stalking off.

The next couple moons your relationship continued and you (as expected) were going to have kits.

Your friends in RiverClan that knew seemed nervous but excepted it.

But your kits came early, at the sunning rocks.

(You know the story what fait do you have? Do you end up how Silverstream did in the original books? You decide!)
